

Week 0 Report

Infosys Stock History Analysis (Last 5 Years)

This report analyzes Infosys Ltd. over the last five years focusing on dividend payouts, stock split history, major corporate events, stock-price impact, and comparison with NIFTY 50.

1. Dividend Payouts

Ex-Date	Dividend	Record Date
27 Oct 2025	■23.00	27 Oct 2025
30 May 2025	■22.00	30 May 2025
29 Oct 2024	■21.00	29 Oct 2024
31 May 2024	■28.00	31 May 2024
25 Oct 2023	■18.00	25 Oct 2023
2 Jun 2023	■17.50	2 Jun 2023

2. Stock Split History

Infosys has not announced any stock split during the last 5 years. The most recent stock split occurred in 2018 with a 2:1 ratio.

3. Major Corporate Events

2021 Digital Boom: Strong cloud and digital transformation demand boosted the stock.

2022 IT Slowdown: Global recession fears and weak IT spending caused correction.

2024–2026 AI Concerns: AI disruption concerns reduced investor confidence in IT outsourcing.

Large Deal Wins: Strong earnings and deal announcements created short-term rallies.

4. Stock Price Impact

Event	Before	After	Impact
2021 Digital Boom	■900	■1,800	Bullish Rally
2022 Slowdown	■2,248	■1,350	Major Correction
2026 AI Weakness	■1,728	■1,170	Bearish Pressure

5. Infosys Market Statistics

Metric	Value
Current Price	~₹1,175
52-Week High	~₹1,728
52-Week Low	~₹1,050
Market Cap	~₹4.7 Trillion
Dividend Yield	~4.3%

6. Infosys vs NIFTY 50

Investment	Approx. 5-Year Return
Infosys	55–65%
NIFTY 50	70–80%

7. Conclusion

Infosys remained a fundamentally strong large-cap IT company with stable profitability, reliable dividend payouts, and strong global presence. However, the stock faced pressure from global economic slowdown and AI-related concerns affecting the IT outsourcing sector.

Sources:

- StockAnalysis.com
- CompaniesMarketCap.com
- MarketWatch.com
- EconomicTimes.com